Roadside Assistance

Roadside cover means assistance a ¼ of a mile or more from the driver's home. If the problem is not immediately repairable, the driver and the vehicle will be taken home or to the nearest garage, whichever is closer.

Relay*

When a roadside repair is not possible Relay takes the vehicle, driver and up to 7 passengers to any single destination on the UK mainland.

Relay Plus*

Extends the Relay service to provide one of three alternative arrangements for driver and up to 7 passengers.

1. Hire of car for 48 hours, subject to hire company's terms and conditions or
2. One night's accommodation in the vicinity of the breakdown or
3. Reimbursement of reasonable transport costs to allow you to complete your journey (up to current limit).

*Relay and Relay Plus services are not provided at, or within ¼ mile of driver's home address.

Home Start

For breakdowns that occur at or within ¼ mile of the driver's home.

Accident Management

AA Accident Management will co-ordinate your insurance claim, arrange a speedy high quality repair and can even help with uninsured loss recovery following an accident, act of vandalism or theft.

Other services

Truck Rescue - If you have vehicles over 3.5 tonnes gvw, the AA can organise comprehensive assistance in the event of a breakdown or accident in the UK or Europe (subject to status).

Fleet Europe - If vehicles in your fleet travel to Europe, this can provide cover for individual vehicles from £10.20.

Terms and conditions apply.
