for businesses across Surrey

Whether you are building momentum, growing your team or strengthening your market position, Surrey Chambers membership gives you practical support, valuable connections and a stronger voice in the region.

At Surrey Chambers of Commerce, our purpose is not simply to bring businesses together, but to help create the conditions for them to grow, collaborate and thrive.

We support organisations at every stage of their journey, from next generation leaders, start-ups and scale-ups to SMEs, global businesses, investors and mentors.

That means creating opportunities for connection and collaboration, while also providing the training, insight, representation and practical support businesses need to build momentum and move forward with confidence.

We believe strong business communities are built through shared ambition, meaningful relationships and a clear voice. By bringing together the right people, championing business priorities, supporting skills and development, and helping organisations raise their profile and access new opportunities, we play an active role in shaping Surrey's future.

Together, we are creating a more connected, ambitious and resilient business community.

What our members say

No two businesses are the same, and neither are the reasons they join Surrey Chambers.

For some, membership is about visibility and new opportunities. For others, it is about trusted connections, practical support, stronger representation or access to the wider business community.

But the strongest proof of that value comes from our members themselves. Here's what they say about why they joined Surrey Chambers and what membership has meant for their business.

I met a guest at an event when I first started, who went on to become my first sales coaching client. I'm so pleased I joined and wouldn't look back!

Guildford Shakespeare Company

Azets were delighted to sponsor the Annual Christmas Lunch. We really value the work the Chambers does all year round and it was lovely to come together to celebrate and close off the year. It was an excellent opportunity to network, catch up with old contacts, and make some new ones

We have connected with businesses that, through the warm and meaningful connections facilitated by the team, have gone on to express a genuine interest in sponsorship or become active supporters of our work.
